Via Zoom (Register Here)

Opening Space is a Zoom-based series, co-hosted by the TTUHSC Office of Global Health and the TTU Vernacular Music Center, that elevates unheard voices through shared dialogue and stories of reflection.

Join us in February as we highlight professionals that support and serve individuals through traumatic experiences and emergencies, featuring panelists Kendra Thornton, SANE certified nurse and TTUHSC Assistant Professor, Joni Holloway, UMC Health System Trauma and Burn Program Coordinator, and Jennah-Hanson Daley, TTU Couple, Marriage, and Family Therapy Program Doctoral Student.

The event will promote conversation among individuals – students, faculty, staff, and community partners – who specialize in the arts, humanities, and STEM topics. By sharing a dialog between and across their fields of expertise and experience, we highlight the bridges and points of connection between and among our campus community members.

THIS EVENT IS FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC.
