Global Health Lecture Series

CARINGCROWD®: Changing the Caring Narrative featuring
Derek Fetzer
Co-founder and Team Leader for CARINGCROWD®

Thursday, September 28
Noon, ACB 110
(Abilene - ABPH2200)

Public health starts with the community. Building connections between people passionate about health is a powerful way to improve, protect, and save lives. Every day, non-profits with on-the-ground experience and knowledge of local communities work to improve health and deliver technologies. Through smart, targeted projects, these organizations address critical health issues for those most in need. Yet many non-profits face a critical challenge: funding.

Yet, everyone can help. We all have the power to make an impact on public health, one project at a time. How? By mobilizing massive networks and directing funding to efforts that lack the resources they need to create real change where access to health care is limited.

Originally an industrial engineer from Peru and a graduate of Purdue University, Derek Fetzer has over 23 years of strategy, consulting, and business analytics experience across different industries, spanning the US, EU, and Latin America. For the last 10 years, Derek has worked in the area of infectious diseases, collaborating on key product launches in HIV/AIDS, HCV, and tuberculosis. His career interest is in improving access to healthcare around the world by empowering the "crowd".

For more information about CARINGCROWD®, please visit their website at www.caringcrowd.org.

This event is free & open to the public. Free lunch will be provided to the first 50 attendees. No RSVP is necessary.

For more information about the Global Health Lecture Series, contact the Office of Global Health at 806-743-2901 or globalhealth@ttuhsc.edu.
Persons needing assistance should contact the Office of Global Health for arrangements.